Anacortes City Council Minutes – August 10, 2020

Mayor Laurie Gere called to order the Anacortes City Council meeting of August 10, 2020 at 6:00 p.m. Councilmembers Anthony Young, Ryan Walters, Christine Cleland-McGrath, Bruce McDougall and Matt Miller all participated in the meeting in absentia via video conference. Councilmembers Jeremy Carter and Carolyn Moulton were absent.

Mr. Miller moved, seconded by Mr. Young, to excuse the absence of Mr. Carter. The motion carried unanimously by voice vote.

Mayor Gere noted that the Public Comment portion of the agenda had been reinstated following City Council adoption of Resolution 2096 and that the meetings were now being held using Zoom Webinar. The instructions for public participation in the City Council meetings were displayed.

Announcements and Committee Reports

COVID-19 Update: Mayor Gere reported current case statistics for Anacortes, Skagit County and Washington State. She reviewed the county's status on the five metrics required to move to Phase 3 of the Safe Start Washington plan.

At approximately 6:06 p.m. Councilmember Carolyn Moulton joined the meeting in absentia via video conference.

Public Safety Committee: Mr. Miller reported from the committee meeting the prior week. He said the Fire Department discussed letters of support from the public, promotional testing, and the proposed extension of the contract with the IAFF which would be considered later on the agenda. Mr. Miller said the Police Department discussed letters of support from the public, its two newest officers, promotional testing, and progress resolving drug houses. Ms. Cleland-McGrath added that the new fingerprinting machine had arrived and would be available to the public once Skagit County moved to Phase 3 of the Safe Start Washington plan.

Housing Affordability & Community Services Committee: Ms. Cleland-McGrath reported from the committee meeting earlier in the afternoon. She reported on topics discussed including rental assistance funding, processing the Small Business Stabilization grants, and a meeting with the Anacortes 100 Food Bank and Helping Hands regarding the potential for Helping Hands to work with local agencies to assist those in need.

Planning Committee: Ms. Cleland-McGrath reported from the committee meeting earlier in the evening. She said the group debriefed on the recent site visit with Port of Anacortes staff, elected officials and consultants to discuss the Port's planned NW basin redevelopment and event center. Mr. Young requested more information on that topic.

Public Comment

Nick _____, 2618 R Avenue, expressed his concerns about the housing crisis. He described the difficult, often unprecedented situation of non-essential workers who may now be several months behind on their rent. He said the rental assistance available through the Anacortes Family Center would be woefully inadequate and that he expected to see evictions and homelessness increase during the winter as soon as the governor lifted the ban on evictions. He urged the city to find more means of helping residents with rent.

Eric Petersen, 14489 Gibraltar Road, treasurer of the Anacortes Museum Foundation, thanked the City Council and mayor for tireless efforts to work with the Museum and the Museum Foundation on the Mitchell Mural Project. Mr. Petersen spoke of the importance of the project to attract interest in how history has shaped Anacortes and to preserve the legacy of Bill Mitchell. Mr. Petersen said the Foundation was working tirelessly to raise funds to support the ongoing costs to maintain the murals and had a solid plan in place to achieve that. He thanked the Council for considering accepting the donation of the murals.

Mr. Miller moved, seconded by Ms. Moulton, to approve the following Consent Agenda items. The motion carried unanimously by voice vote.

Finance Director Steve Hoglund presented a draft ordinance extending the collective bargaining agreement by MOU between the City of Anacortes and the International Association of Firefighters Local 1537 to December 31, 2021. Mr. Lunsford explained the Mural Project, referring to his slide presentation which was added to the packet materials for the meeting. Mr. Lunsford responded to councilmember questions about the project.

Mayor Gere inquired if any members of the virtual audience wished to comment on this agenda item. No members of the public wished to comment.

B. Rating. Wetlands must be rated by a qualified professional according to the Washington State Department of Ecology Wetland Rating System for Western Washington - 2014 Update (Ecology Publication #14-06-029, October 2014), or as revised. Wetland rating categories will be applied as the wetland exists on the date of adoption of the rating system by the City, as the wetland naturally changes in accordance with permitted activities.

 Removal of 17.70.320 moved to FWHCA Habitats of Local Importance

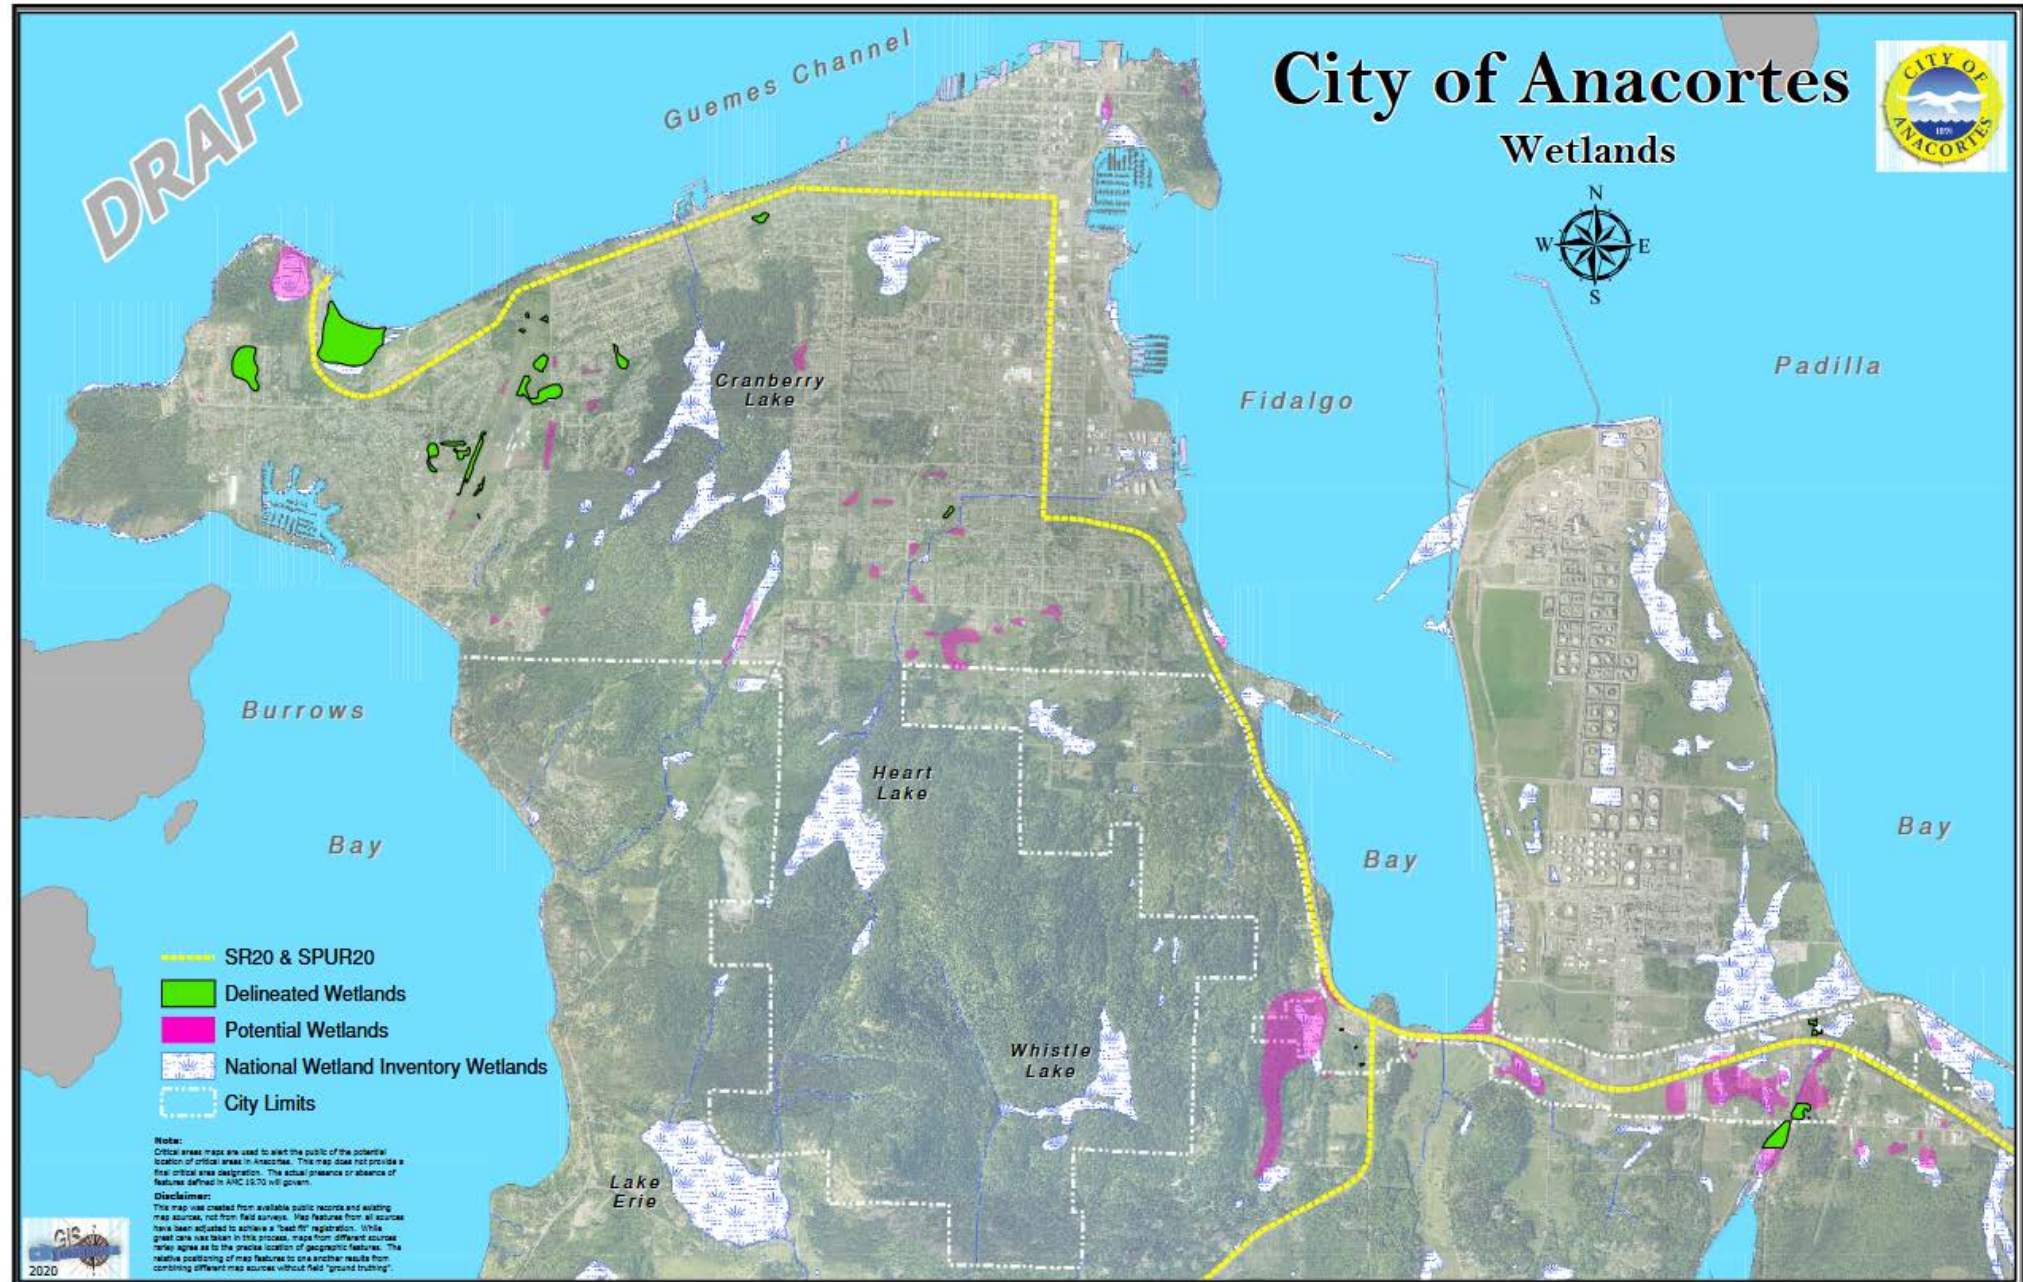

D. Regionally Significant Wetlands. Pursuant to subsection (B)(1)(a)(iii) of this section, the following wetlands are designated as Category I wetlands:

1. Cannery Pond (West of the State Ferry Terminal);
2. Ship Harbor Interpretive Preserve (East of the State Ferry Terminal), except as to buffer widths which shall be as required for Category II;
3. Any otherwise regulated Category II wetland, as rated under subsection (B)(1)(b) of this section, that is within the watersheds of Little Cranberry Lake, Whistle Lake and Heart Lake and that drains by natural seasonal surface water connection into those lakes or their upstream associated wetland systems.

E. Locally Significant Wetlands. Pursuant to subsection (B)(1)(b)(iv) of this section, the following wetlands are designated as Category II wetlands:

1. The wetlands on or adjacent to the Port of Anacortes owned property at the Anacortes Airport except as to buffer widths which shall be as required for Category III.

19.70.220 Wetlands – Mapping and Delineation

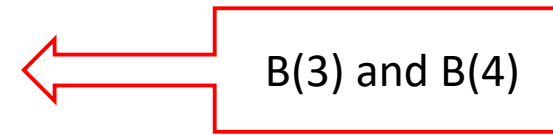

Wetlands (starting on pg. 36)

19.70.230 Wetlands – Specific Wetland Category Development Standards

Ecology requested the following:

- Limiting the small wetland exemption to Category IV wetlands only and replacing “isolated wetlands” with “non-federally regulated wetlands.”

Changes to Wetlands – Required buffer areas

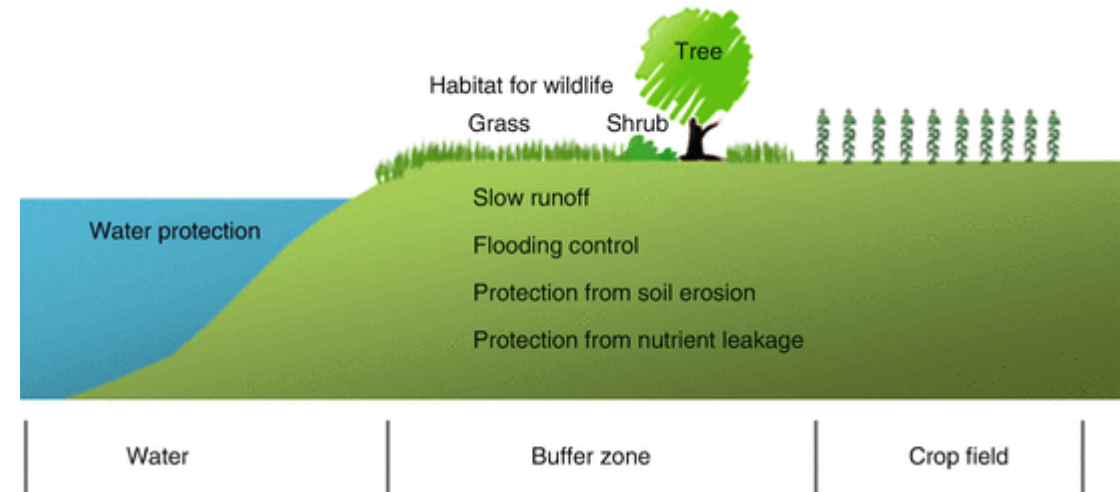

- Standard buffer widths updated per Ecology guidance
 - Added 33% increase provision and updated points values to match 2014 rating system
- Adds requirement to demonstrate no feasible alternative when proposing buffer averaging
- Carries over “Passive Recreation” facilities as an “allowed use” within wetland buffers, but adds Ecology-recommended impact- minimizing parameters for such facilities, including restriction to the outer 25% of buffer and max. of 6’ wide
- Adds/updates criteria for stormwater management facilities within buffers per DOE guidance
- Adds provisions regarding previously established buffers & “interrupted buffers”
- Adds a required 10’ setback from buffers
- Revises buffer approach to incorporate wetland type and functions, types of adjacent land use, and the environmental characteristics of the existing buffer, per DOE guidance
- Relocates allowed buffer uses to permitted alterations (19.70.040) and changes review type from Type 1 to Type 2, and updates criteria per DOE guidance
- Removes language about previously established buffers and clarifies provisions for functionally separated and isolated buffers

Ecology Wetland Guidance for CAO Updates

Wetland Buffers:

Needed buffer widths vary widely, depending on multiple primary factors.

- To filter out coarse sediment from residential development next to a low-quality wetland a buffer needs to be a relatively flat area with dense grasses or forest/shrub vegetation from 20 to 30 feet.
- For a buffer area to provide forage and nesting habitat for wetland-dependent species such as waterfowl, herons, or amphibians in a high-quality wetland adjacent to residential development would require a buffer vegetated with trees and shrubs in the range of 200 to 300 feet.

Ecology Wetland Guidance for CAO Updates

Wetland Buffers:

The literature consistently reports that the primary factors to evaluate in determining appropriate buffer widths are:

1. The wetland type and functions needing protection
 - buffers filter sediment, nutrients, or toxics;
 - screen noise and light;
 - provide forage, nesting, or resting habitat for wetland-dependent species; etc.
2. The types of adjacent land use and their expected impacts
3. The characteristics of the buffer area (slope, soils, vegetation).

Ecology Wetland Guidance for CAO Updates

Wetland Buffers

This illustrates the necessity of using an approach to buffers that incorporates:

- wetland type & functions (based on an appropriate rating system),
- types of land use, and
- the environmental characteristics of the existing buffer.

19.70.235 Wetlands – Required buffer areas

B. For the purposes of buffer determination below, Land Use Intensity rating is as follows:

Table 19.70.235 (A)

High Land Use Intensity	Land use that includes the following uses or activities: commercial, industrial, institutional, retail sales, nonresidential use in zones where the primary intent is residential, high density residential zones (R4, R4A, OT), high-intensity recreation (such as golf courses, ball fields,), hobby farms.
Moderate Land Use Intensity	Land use that includes the following uses or activities: medium density residential (R2, R2A, R3, R3A), moderate-intensity open space (parks, trails, and logging roads).
Low Land Use Intensity	Land use that includes the following uses or activities: low density residential (R1), forestry (cutting of trees only), low-intensity open space (such as passive recreation and natural resources preservation), unpaved trails.

Commented [CT9]: Change to:

Land use that includes the following uses or activities: commercial, industrial, institutional, retail sales, nonresidential use in zones where the primary intent is residential, high density all residential zones (R4, R4A, R3, R3A, R2, R2A, R1, OT), high-intensity recreation (such as golf courses, ball fields,), hobby farms.

Commented [CT10]: Change to:

Land use that includes the following uses or activities: moderate-intensity open space (parks, trails, and logging roads).

Commented [CT11]: Change to:

Land use that includes the following uses or activities: forestry (cutting of trees only), low-intensity open space (such as passive recreation and natural resources preservation), unpaved trails.

C. There are three sets of buffer standards, based on these parameters:

19.70.235 Wetlands – Required buffer areas

19.70.310. Fish and wildlife habitat – Description and Purpose

A. Fish and wildlife habitat conservation areas are lands managed for maintaining populations of species in suitable habitats within their natural geographic distribution so that the habitat available is sufficient to support viable populations over the long term and isolated subpopulations are not created. In addition to their intrinsic value, certain species of fish and wildlife represent important historic, cultural, recreational and economic resources.

B. It is the purpose of this Chapter to protect fish and wildlife populations and their associated habitats and provide special consideration to conservation or protection measures necessary to preserve or enhance anadromous species.

FWHCA's: Section 19.70.310 - starting on pg. 55

19.70.315 Fish and wildlife habitat – Designation.

1. Anacortes Community Forest Lands.

Purpose. The Anacortes Community Forest Lands include three lakes and their watersheds, numerous wetlands, rock bluffs, old growth forests, grassy knolls, windswept hilltops, sheltered caves, and a variety of other habitats and microclimates that provide a unique and irreplaceable habitat for both imperiled and commonplace species. This land has been dedicated by the City for the preservation of forest lands and species, as described in the Conservation Easement documents, the ACFL Comprehensive Plan, and in the (newly created) Anacortes Municipal Code Title 12.

Adds the context to the ACFL in place of the removed appendixes.

2. March Point Heronry

To be removed from Draft 3

Purpose. Because Skagit County is home to the greatest concentration of nesting Great Blue Heron in the Salish Sea, March Point being the largest, the City has identified the March Point Heronry as a habitat of local importance.

ACFL:

There are NO changes to the regulation of the ACFL as a Critical Area except for the removal of the appendixes.

Concern for the management of uses in the ACFL was brought up but it was determined not to be appropriate to add to the CAO, so a new section under Title 12 was proposed to be added.

As mentioned last week, regulating the ACFL under the CAO is a challenge, if all other Critical Areas and buffers are regulated as Critical Areas, and the ACFL gets it's own chapter in the AMC, it is possible to “un-nominate” the ACFL.

Great Blue Herons:

Recommendations from the Skagit Land Trust
To update science and correct errors.

Great Blue Heron nesting and breeding areas: Development near a verified heron breeding habitat including nesting colony areas, and former nesting colonies:

- i. A year-round urban buffer of 197 feet,
- ii. For unusually loud activities that occur during breeding season (February – September) a seasonal buffer of 656 feet, and a Blasting/Extreme noise buffer of 1,320 feet.
- iii. For properties without an existing and approved management plan; a management plan developed by a qualified professional to follow, at a minimum, WDFW's Management Recommendations for Washington's Priority Species (March 2012) and that identifies the nesting and breeding site as well as pre-nesting staging areas, and breeding season foraging habitat.
- iv. For the March's Point Colony, given the observed and documented sensitivity of this mega-colony to human intrusion and the fact that the colony is in a rare, isolated but tight location, a year-round buffer of 984 feet.
